Good morning Amanda,

We are submitting our STP for final approval. The materials attached for your review include:

- The final STP, with some updates made after the March 25 release for public comment. The updates do not address CMS's May 24 announcement relating to the possibility of corrective action plans (CAPs).
- A redline showing the differences between the current version of the STP and the one that was released for public comment.
- Our response to public comments received in May.

We will be posting these materials online today. As I mentioned in March, for those who prefer to review materials in hard copy, the STP and the STP redline work best on tabloid-sized paper. Please let us know if you'd like us to mail you any printouts.

Best,
Leah
