

Making the Math work for you: APM2 data for providers

See your practice data trended forward

How can enrolling APM2 at any level make financial sense for your practice or system?

It's all in the numbers. Requesting the data for your organization is easy, free and does not require a commitment to enroll. Health care actuaries are ready to provide you with real-time information on your current practice rates and trended forward in time. You can use this data to determine the structure of their payments and can request this data for free with no commitment to join.

Once you've requested your data, you'll get the answer to this equation:

Attributed members X per member per month payment

additional fee for service payment

What you can expect in stable revenue each month

Providers who enroll in APM2 will continue to receive fee for service payments alongside their existing per member per month payments for attributed members who are geographically attributed and/or are dual eligible.

What can you do with that number?
