Personal Supports

Service Specifications

Definition

1. Personal Supports offer a range of supports that ensure the member's health, safety, and welfare and supports that assist the member to live and participate successfully in their community. Personal Supports may be delivered as supportive supervision or assistance to enable waiver members to accomplish tasks that they would normally do for themselves if they did not have a disability. Personal Supports may be provided on an episodic or on a continuing basis at home and in the community.

Eligibility

1. To be eligible for Personal Supports, a waiver member must participate in an assessment through which they are assessed for daily support needs, community protection and safety needs, and whether or to what extent Personal Supports would address their demonstrated needs.

Covered Services

1. A combination of lifelong - or extended duration - supervision, assistance with skill acquisition and/or support (i.e. support is any task performed for the member, where learning is secondary or incidental to the task itself, or an adaptation is provided) which are essential to daily community living.
2. Personal Support may take the form of supervision (whether general or task-related), hands-on assistance (supporting a person in performing a task), cuing to prompt member to perform a task, or support (i.e. support is any task performed for the member, where learning is secondary or incidental to the task itself, or an adaptation is provided) and which are essential to daily community living. Specifically, such services may be provided across the following areas:
 - a. Supportive Supervision as provided in the member's Person-Centered Support Plan to ensure the health, safety, and welfare of the member.
 - b. Activities of Daily Living (ADLs) , which include basic self-care activities of mobility, transferring, bathing, dressing, toileting, and eating. Components of these ADLs may include such activities as grooming, hygiene, walking, support - for maintaining continence, administering medications, and administering gastrostomy tubes (g-tubes) services.

- c. Instrumental Activities of Daily Living (IADLs), which include activities related to independent living, including preparing meals, managing money, shopping for groceries or personal items, performing housework, and communication. Components of these IADLs may include such activities as daily planning, decision-making, problem-solving, transportation management, shopping, communication devices and techniques, service animal care, laundry.
 - d. Emergency assistance training includes developing responses in case of emergencies, prevention planning, and training in the use of equipment or technologies used to access emergency response systems in so far as providing the training does not justify or require qualifications beyond those of the Personal Support provider or attendant.
 - e. Implementation of recommended follow-up counseling, behavioral or other therapeutic interventions by staff, under the direction of a professional. Implementation of physical, occupational or speech therapies delivered under the direction of a licensed or certified professional in that discipline. Services are aimed at increasing the overall effective functioning of the member.
 - f. Assistance with routine health-related tasks in a person's home and community. For the purposes of this service, health-related tasks include those that an otherwise eligible Personal Supports provider is authorized to perform as exempted under state law or as delegated by a Registered Nurse. Medical and health care services that are integral to meeting the daily needs of the member (e.g., routine administration of medications or tending to the needs of members who are ill or require attention to their medical needs on an ongoing basis).
3. Personal Supports includes a Member-Directed option through which the member has employer authority to recruit, hire, train, supervise, and direct non-agency workers who furnish supports.
- i. Members directing their Personal Supports services are not required to hire a nurse or other health professionals to perform skilled tasks; and
 - ii. Member-directed Personal Supports assistance and activities and Health Maintenance skilled tasks do not require orders from a physician.

Limitations & Exclusions

1. These services are individually planned and coordinated through the member's Person-Centered Support Plan. The frequency, duration, and scope of these services are determined by the member's needs identified in the Person-Centered Support Plan.

2. These services are provided only when neither the member nor a Legally Responsible Person is willing and capable of performing them and has no other resources to obtain this service.
3. Waiver members ages 18 to 20 who need assistance with health-related tasks may access those services under the Waiver to the extent that the services do not duplicate a service required under Early and Periodic Screening, Diagnostic and Treatment (EPSDT) or to the extent that the Medicaid State Plan, other resources, or another Waiver service is not responsible.
4. Waiver members ages 21 and older who need assistance with health-related tasks may access those services under the waiver to the extent that the Medicaid State Plan, other resources, or another waiver service is not responsible.
5. Personal Supports is not to be delivered simultaneously during the direct provision of Caregiver Supports, Community and Personal Engagement, Employment Supports, Intensive Supports (Short-term & Site-based), Residential Services, Peer Mentorship or Life Skills Training.
